Friday, November 1 / 3:00pm
Michael Kearns and Aaron Roth
The Ethical Algorithm: The Science of Socially Aware Algorithm Design
Friday Forum
@ Harvard Book Store
An acclaimed authors and professors Michael Kearns and Aaron Roth address the human biases replicated in the algorithms we create and explain how we can better embed ethical principles into machine code.

Friday, November 1 / 7:00pm
Gail Mazur, Major Jackson, Didì Jackson, Nausheen Eusuf, and Lloyd Schwartz
The Best American Poetry 2019
@ Harvard Book Store
Guest editor Major Jackson and celebrated poets and contributors Gail Mazur, Didì Jackson, Nausheen Eusuf, and Lloyd Schwartz read from the latest volume of the leading anthology of contemporary American poetry.

Saturday, November 2 / 11:00am
After Hours at the Bookstore with Jac Jemc
False Bingo: Stories
in conversation with NINA MLAUGHTHLIN
$18 tickets (flashlight included)
@ Harvard Book Store
Jac Jemc, award-winning writer of The Grip of It joins us for a very special, late-night, 21+ event. She'll read from her surreal new story collection, joined by acclaimed local author Nina MacLaughlin; afterwards, there will be adult beverages, spooky snacks, a costume contest, browsing by flashlight, and 20% off all purchases until the clock strikes one!

Sunday, November 3 / 9:00am–11:00 pm
Our Annual Frequent Buyer Sale
@ Harvard Book Store
All day on November 3rd, Frequent Buyer Card holders receive 20% off all purchases of new, used, and remaindered books, as well as Print on Demand titles from our database, and non-book items throughout the store.

Monday, November 4 / 7:00pm
Paul Tough
The Years That Matter Most: How College Makes or Breaks Us
in conversation with ANTHONY ABRAHAM JACK
@ Harvard Book Store
Acclaimed authors and professors Michael Kearns and Aaron Roth address the human biases replicated in the algorithms we create and explain how we can better embed ethical principles into machine code.

Tuesday, November 5 / 6:00pm
Lawrence Lessig
They Don’t Represent Us: Reclaiming Our Democracy
Ethics in Your World
$6 tickets
@ the Brattle Theatre | 40 Brattle St.
Renowned author and Harvard Law professor Lawrence Lessig advocates for systemic reforms that will solve our current democratic crisis and create a government that truly represents the will of its citizens. This event is co-sponsored by Harvard’s Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics.

Wednesday, November 6 / 6:00pm
Carmen Maria Machado
In the Dream House: A Memoir
in conversation with KELLY LINK
$27.75 tickets (book included)
@ the Brattle Theatre | 40 Brattle St.
The award-winning author of Her Body and Other Parties reads from her highly anticipated new memoir, a formally inventive and heartwrenching account of a relationship gone bad. She’ll be joined by Kelly Link, master of short fiction and fantasy. This event is co-sponsored by Mass Humanities.

Wednesday, November 6 / 7:00pm
Lawrence Weschler
And How Are You, Dr. Sacks?: A Biographical Memoir of Oliver Sacks
in conversation with CHRISTOPHER LYDON
@ Harvard Book Store
Veteran New Yorker staff writer Lawrence Weschler presents his intimate, definitive biography of the great neurologist and author. He’ll be joined by Radio Open Source’s Christopher Lydon.

Thursday, November 7 / 6:00pm
Karen Olsson
The Weil Conjectures: On Math and the Pursuit of the Unknown
Science Book Talks
@ Harvard Science Center, Hall C 1 Oxford St.
Acclaimed author Karen Olsson discusses her latest book: part portrait of brilliant thinkers and siblings Simone & André Weil, part exploration of her own evolution from math major to writer, wholly a celebration of the singular poetic beauty of mathematics.

Friday, November 8 / 7:00pm
Lindy West
The Witches Are Coming
$28.75 tickets (book included)
@ First Parish Church
1446 Mass. Ave.
Lindy West—critically acclaimed New York Times columnist and author of Shrill—reads from her latest book, in which she assesses the rise of Trump, and the death-grip of ‘mediocre white men’ on politics and culture, with her trademark wicked humor and incisive criticism. This event is co-sponsored by Pop Culture Positive.

Friday, November 8 / 7:00pm
Jack Goldsmith
In Hoffa’s Shadow: A Stepfather, A Disappearance in Detroit, and My Search for the Truth
@ Harvard Book Store
Jack Goldsmith—author and Henry L. Shattuck Professor of Law at Harvard University—sets out to unravel one of the twentieth century’s most persistent mysteries, and his stepfather Chuckie O’Brien’s possible role in it.

Monday, November 11 / 6:00pm
André Aciman
Find Me: A Novel
$6 tickets
@ the Brattle Theatre | 40 Brattle St.
Acclaimed author André Aciman reads from the highly anticipated sequel to his beloved, bestselling novel Call Me By Your Name, picking up the story of Elio and Oliver to ask if, in fact, true love ever dies.

Tuesday, November 12 / 7:00pm
Jana Prikryl
No Matter: Poems
in conversation with JAMES WOOD
@ Harvard Book Store
Acclaimed poet and editor Jana Prikryl reads from her latest collection, an elegy for the precarity and loss of permanence endemic to our current moment. She’ll be joined by celebrated writer, New York Times critic, and Harvard professor James Wood.
Wednesday, November 13 / 6:00pm
Lee Smolin
Einstein’s Unfinished Revolution: The Search for What Lies Beyond the Quantum
Science Book Talks
@ Harvard Science Center, Hall C 1 Oxford St.
Author and influential physicist Lee Smolin argues that our current understanding of quantum mechanics is incomplete, and that we must push beyond it to find a description of the world on an atomic scale that actually makes sense.

Wednesday, November 13 / 7:00pm
Samuel Shem
Man’s 4th Best Hospital: A Novel
@ Harvard Book Store
Novelist and playwright Samuel Shem reads from the long-awaited sequel to his bestselling, highly acclaimed The House of God—a heartbreaking and hilarious exploration of how the health-care industry has evolved over the past thirty years.

Thursday, November 14 / 6:00pm
Terry Tempest Williams
Erosion: Essays of Undoing
$6 tickets
@ the Brattle Theatre | 40 Brattle St.
Renowned writer and conservationist Terry Tempest Williams explores the dire social and environmental consequences of the current political moment through the concept of erosion: of the land, of the self, of belief, of fear.

Thursday, November 14 / 7:00pm
Thomas Travisano
Love Unknown: The Life and Worlds of Elizabeth Bishop in conversation with LLOYD SCHWARTZ
@ Harvard Book Store
Author, professor, and eminent Elizabeth Bishop scholar Thomas Travisano presents his comprehensive biography of Bishop, her vibrant life and remarkable body of work. He’ll be joined by celebrated poet Lloyd Schwartz.

Friday, November 15 / 3:00pm
Arthur Isak Appelbaum
Legitimacy: The Right to Rule in a Wanton World
Ethics in Your World
@ Harvard Book Store
Arthur Isak Appelbaum—Adams Professor of Democratic Values at Harvard’s Kennedy School—investigates what makes a government legitimate and how we can protect against wantonism, a tyranny of unreason. This event is co-sponsored by Harvard’s Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics.

Friday, November 15 / 7:00pm
Howard Eiland
The Arcades Project by Walter Benjamin in conversation with LINDSAY WATERS
@ Harvard Book Store
Critic, translator, and Walter Benjamin scholar Howard Eiland commemorates the 20th anniversary of Harvard University Press’s publication of Benjamin’s monumental work, The Arcades Project. He’ll be joined by Lindsay Waters, the Benjamin editor at HUP. This event is co-sponsored by Mass Humanities.

Friday, November 15 / 7:00pm
Leah Greenburg and Ezra Levin
We Are Indivisible: A Blueprint for Democracy After Trump
in conversation with MARSHALL GANZ
$8 tickets
@ First Parish Church 1446 Mass. Ave.
The former congressional staffers and co-directors of the grassroots organizing movement Indivisible discuss their new co-authored book, a behind-the-scenes look at how change comes to Washington—whether Washington wants it or not. They’ll be joined by Marshall Ganz, Senior Lecturer in Public Policy at Harvard’s Kennedy School.

Saturday, November 16 / 7:00pm
Niki Segnit
Lateral Cooking: One Dish Leads to Another
Good Taste: Conversations on Food and Writing
@ Harvard Book Store
Award-winning food writer Niki Segnit—author of The Flavor Thesaurus—encourages home cooks to venture past infinitely adaptable formulas for thinking creatively and intuitively about food.

Monday, November 18 / 7:00pm
Lizabeth Cohen
Saving America’s Cities: Ed Logue and the Struggle to Renew Urban America in the Suburban Age
@ Harvard Book Store
Acclaimed author Lizabeth Cohen—Howard Mumford Jones Professor of American Studies at Harvard University—examines the state of deteriorating infrastructure and increasing inequality in America’s urban centers through the career and complicated legacy of city planner Edward J. Logue.

Tuesday, November 19 / 6:00pm
Naomi Oreskes
Why Trust Science?
Science Book Talks
@ Harvard Science Center, Hall C 1 Oxford St.
Esteemed author and Harvard professor Naomi Oreskes offers a bold and compelling defense of science, revealing why the social and consensus-based character of scientific knowledge is its greatest strength—and the greatest reason we can trust it.

Tuesday, November 19 / 7:00pm
Nina MacLaughlin
Witches’ Dance: A Novel
in conversation with STEVE ALMOND
New Voices in Fiction
@ Harvard Book Store
Nina MacLaughlin—acclaimed local author of the memoir Hammer Head: The Making of a Carpenter—reads from her highly anticipated fiction debut, a reimagining of Ovid’s Metamorphoses that lets its women tell their own stories of loss, transformation, love, assault, and revenge. This event is co-sponsored by GrubStreet.

Wednesday, November 20 / 7:00pm
Erin Eileen Almond
Witches’ Dance: A Novel
in conversation with STEVE ALMOND
New Voices in Fiction
@ Harvard Book Store
Local author Erin Eileen Almond reads from her debut novel—the story of a reclusive violin virtuoso, his protégé, and the Paganini piece that sweeps them up in a witches’ dance of their own. She’ll be joined by her husband, bestselling author Steve Almond. This event is co-sponsored by GrubStreet.

Thursday, November 21 / 7:00pm
Richard J. King
Ahab’s Rolling Sea: A Natural History of Moby-Dick
@ Harvard Book Store
Acclaimed writer, marine science educator, and literary scholar Richard J. King celebrates the resonance of Moby-Dick as a work of nature writing—equivalent to those of Thoreau and Emerson—and its relevance to our own evolving relationship with the sea. This event is co-sponsored by Mass Humanities.

Friday, November 22 / 3:00pm
Stéphane Vial and Patsy Baudoin
Being and the Screen: How the Digital Changes Perception
Friday Forum
@ Harvard Book Store
Professor, author, and editor Stéphane Vial discusses his new book—a philosophical analysis of the way digital technologies alter our ability to perceive the ’real’ and hybridize our physical experience—translated from the French by editor, translator, and former MIT Media Lab librarian Patsy Baudoin.

Friday, November 22 / 7:00pm
Jeffrey Zuckerman
The Living Days by Ananda Devi in conversation with ANNABEL L. KIM Works in Translation
@ Harvard Book Store
Editor and translator Jeffrey Zuckerman discusses his experience translating Ananda Devi’s acclaimed novel of white supremacy, poverty, and class conflict in London, The Living Days, into English. He’ll be joined by Annabel L. Kim, Harvard professor and scholar of French fiction.

Monday, November 25 / 7:00pm
The Harvard Square Book Circle discusses Ali Smith’s How to be both: A Novel
@ Harvard Book Store
Our in-store book club discusses Ali Smith’s award-winning novel, a creatively structured, emotionally resonant examination of art and the many dualities of human experience.

Tickets for events requiring them are available at harvard.com/events. All venues are in Cambridge, unless otherwise specified.